Author to speak

FLINT — From 11 a.m.-1 p.m. July 11, Margery Krevsky, author of Sirens of Chrome, will be at Sloan Museum for a talk about her book, as well as a book signing. The event is free with museum admission or purchase of the book. The speech will entail how to become involved with being an automotive model and Krevsky's experiences in the industry. — N.B.
