

Art » Exhibits » Art opening

Sirens of Chrome

Thursday, December 11 at 6-8 p.m.

Critic's Pick

VA VA VROOM
by Megan O'Neil

Margery Krevsky's Sirens of Chrome: The Enduring Allure of Auto Show Models chronicles the history of auto show models, from eye-candy spending-enticers to power-suited "product specialists." (Hey, could they have helped in those bailout excursions to Congress?) As the co-founder of Productions Plus, an agency that selects talent for auto shows, Krevsky herself played a crucial role, helping to turn human hood ornaments into professional compendiums of automobile facts, enticing customers not just with looks, but with knowledge. (What a concept!) The exhibit runs in conjunction with the book, featuring photographs and memorabilia spanning the history of auto show models. Krevsky will be present to sign copies of her work, proceeds from which will benefit the National Automobile Collection. From 6 to 9 p.m. at the Detroit Public Library's Skillman Branch, 121 Gratiot Ave., Detroit; 313-833-4047. Exhibit runs through April 30.

Event Info

Detroit Public Library - Skillman Branch
121 Gratiot Ave.

[\[Map It\]](#)

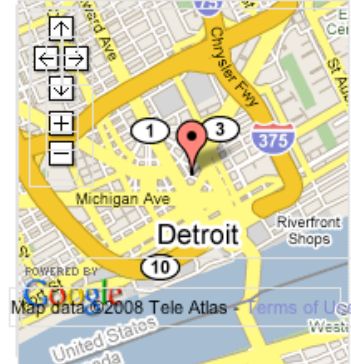

Venue phone: 313-628-2750

Website

paid parking and street parking available

Ticket Info: Free

Map It

See Also

Other events on Thursday, December 11

Other Art opening events

Other events at Detroit Public Library - Skillman Branch